Other Community Resources:

As its name calls to mind, the hallmark of Roselawn is its beautifully landscaped lawns and gardens surrounding attractive homes on beautifully tree-lined street gas-light streets. Many homes feature Tudor styling or other individual brick designs. In the summer, stately oaks arch the streets. Roselawn also has attractive apartments, many in four-family buildings and small, well-maintained complexes.

Another important feature of Roselawn is its location at the crossroads of major area expressways and proximity to Reading Road (State Route 42) allowing quick access to downtown, Xavier University, the University of Cincinnati and many other locations of interest in and around Cincinnati.

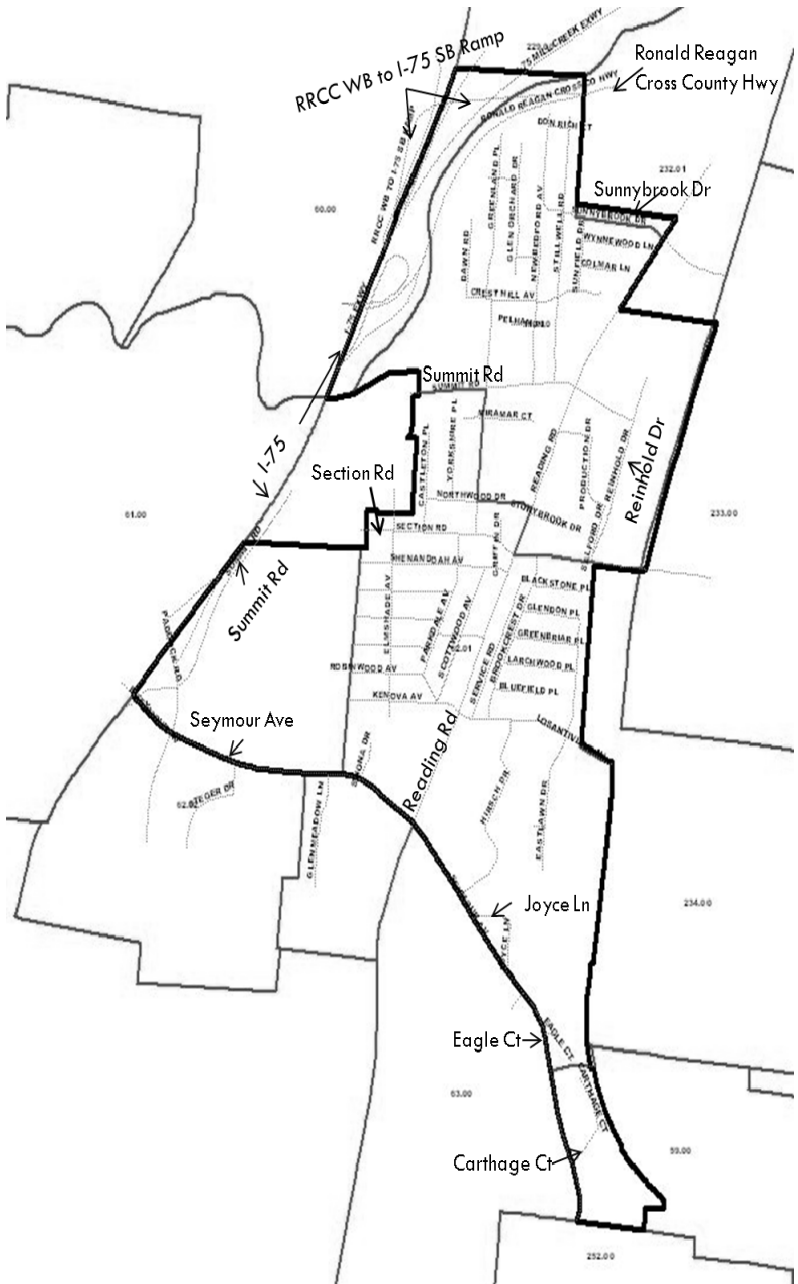

Covering approximately 2 square miles, Roselawn is a culturally diverse neighborhood. Roselawn Park features new nationally recognized baseball facility and, in May 2002, became the site of the 1000 Hands playground. In addition to its residential and retail areas, Roselawn has significant office space, and carefully tucked away from the residential area, light industrial and distribution facilities providing a variety of products and services along with employment opportunities.
